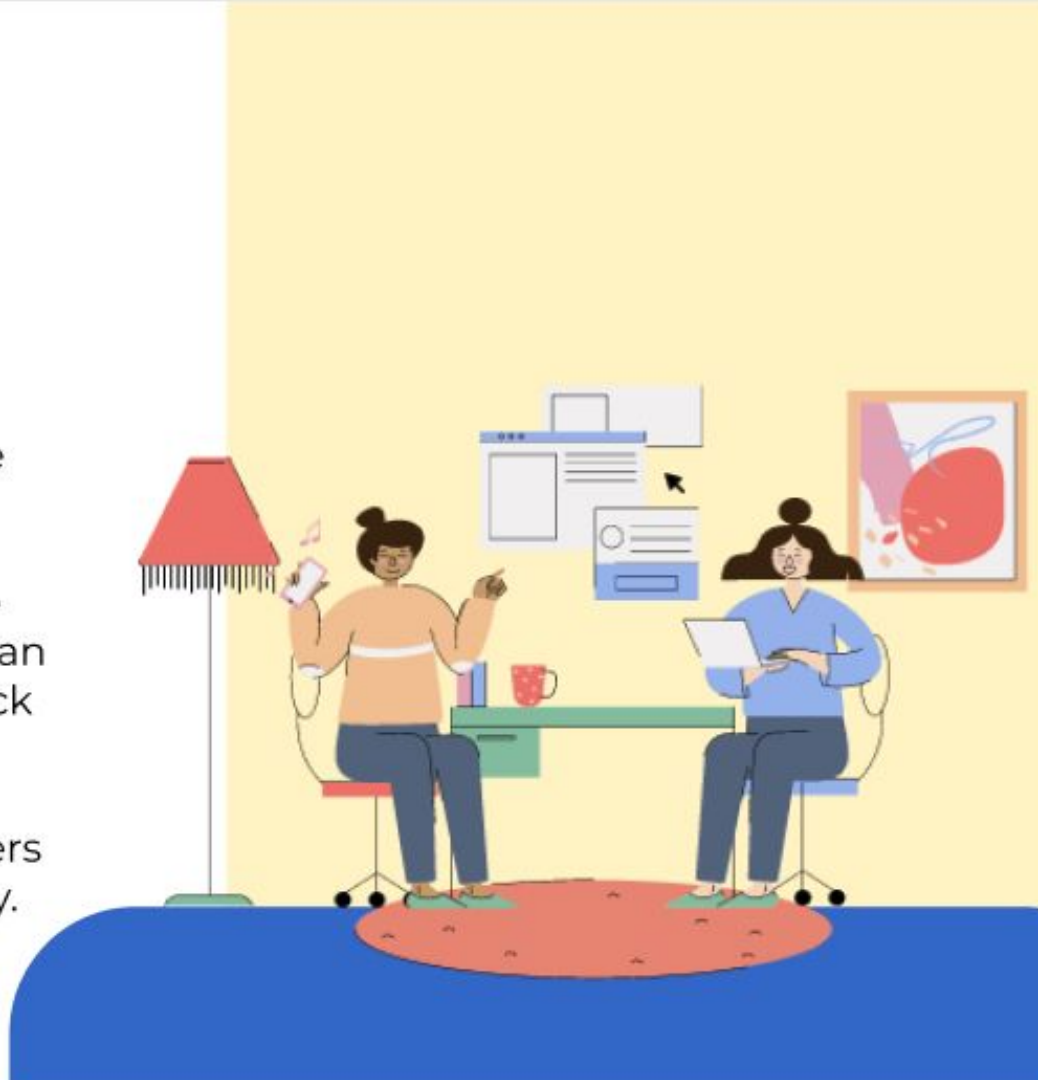
Education Track

Going back to in person learning, we want teachers to be able to give the most passionate presentations possible. However, nothing ruins the flow of a great presentation more than having to run to the computer to click to the next slide and then running back to resume. Therefore, we have created a solution that allows teachers to switch slides with their hands only.



Our Product

A hand recognition software that allows teachers to switch pages in presentations without having to click on their computers

Process

Make your presentation on Powerpoint or Google Slides
